M. M. MURDOCK & BROTHER, Proprietors.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS OF NEWS.

Don't forget the social dance at Goddard to-night.

Several parties have already engaged for Memorial Day.

The office of the Douglas Avenue house is being repaired.

Now is a good time to clean up your yards and premises.

If you want to have a good laugh go to the skating rink to-night.

J. A. Wallace's new implement warehouse is nearing completion.

A new walk is being laid across Douglas avenue just west of the Golden Rule store.

"The Yankee in Cuba" will be presented at the rink to-night by the Wichita dramatic company.

A very nice cash office is now being made for Magill & Bliss at the carpenter shop of W. P. Stem.

The iron work for the front of Pollock & Pierce's new brick on Douglas avenue, was put in place yesterday.

Messrs. Leshey & Goss have purchased the Santa Fe house, near the depot, and will conduct it in the future.

Lovers of works of art should not neglect the public reception to be given at Miss Jackson's studio next Thursday.

A large number of our citizens took advantage of the pleasant weather Sunday, and went for a drive to the country.

Our lady readers should remember that they will be called upon for flowers to decorate the soldiers' graves on Friday.

Those who do not clean their premises from all foul matter in a very short time, will receive a visit from the city marshal.

The city treasury was increased yesterday to the amount of $69, fines imposed on two plain drunks, one drunk and disorderly, and one gambler.

The Rogers coal company have shipped from this city 738 car loads of sand in the last year to stations along the line of the "Frisco and Santa Fe roads."

From several parties who drove into the country Sunday, it is learned that crops are looking very fine. Wheat is heading out, and farmers are busy plowing their corn.

The debris occasioned by the recent burning of the Methodist church has been cleared away, adding much to the appearance of that locality as well as to the safety of pedestrians.

Yesterday it cost a traveling representative of an eastern grocery house $400 to learn that he did not thoroughly understand the game of poker. It was a Wichita man that gave him the lesson.

A very significant placard may now be seen tacked on the rear door of one of our clothing houses, the room formerly having been occupied as a saloon. "Kloist up vor good. Dond bang on de door."

Several workmen were engaged yesterday in laying a gas pipe, connecting with the main on Douglas avenue to the curb stone in front of Pollock and Pierce's grocery, where a new lamp post will be put up.

John M. Martin has received a pension for injuries received at the battle of Chancellorsville, on the 5th day of August, 1862. He was a member of Andrew's sharpshooters, Mass. Vol. A. T. Owen of this city was his agent.

Mrs. Naomi Anderson, a colored lady in this city, is a professional hairdresser, and will hold herself in readiness to arrange the coiffures of a number of ladies on ball and other society occasions. Mrs. A. is a very bright and intelligent woman.

Next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock a heart race will take place on the Little Arkansas, near Riverside Park, between Joseph Henley and Joe Myer. Later in the evening a tub race will take place, which promises to be quite interesting.

We are informed by a party just in from Ninnescah township that what was known as the McLaughlin school house, in district No. 108, was burned Saturday or Sunday night. Our informant was unable to give the particulars.

Yesterday morning Sheriff Fisher, who has some large photograph views of the Medicine Lodge murders and the gentlemen who captured them, gave them to Mr. Rogers, who will take a number of duplicate photos. The men who captured those outlaws are as fine a lot of looking men as one wishes to see.

Dr. I. E. Clayton received a letter the other day from his brother, who lives in Southern Illinois, stating that the weather there was extremely hot and cold, and that corn was rotting in the ground to such an extent that it would all have to be replanted, and that the outlook is anything but promising. When it comes to climate and crops Kansas seems to hold the edge.

The Douglas Avenue hotel is gaining much popularity under the present management. The proprietor, Mr. D. J. Langney, is one of the most obliging of hosts, and his pleasant carriage drawn by a handsome team of blooded steppers, is placed at the disposal of his guests, who often take advantage of his kindness for a drive about the city.

The recent death at Texarkana, Texas, of Col. R. W. Rogers, ex-mayor of the city, and a brother of Mr. B. K. Rogers of this place, has induced the latter to offer for sale his property in this city, he desiring to go to Texarkana and settle on the estate of his late brother, who left several small children and a very large and flourishing business. Mr. B. K. will leave Wichita as soon as his business will permit.

Uncle Johnny Carpenter was down yesterday. He is off for the Chicago convention this week. He says he never saw such crop prospects. Wheat is heading out and oats are close on to the wheat and is growing night and day. Valley Center is improving. He sold, last month, upwards of one hundred dollars worth of wheat. He will build a banking house 25x70 ft. as soon as his brick can be burned.

Capt. John S. Folks, of Wellington, made us a call on Monday. He had been east, and came in over the Ft. Scott & Wichita. He stopped over here to buy a couple of spans of mules. Within ten days he will leave for the Pacific coast overland, taking his wife and babies with him, and will not return home before next spring, expecting to winter at Los Angeles. He will strike directly west to Pike's Peak, then to the Gunnison country, then to Salt Lake, then to "Frisco," then along down between the coast range and the ocean 300 miles to Los Angeles. He expects the trip will take six months, and will be about three thousand miles long. "He goes for his health."

The new Baptist church at Udal was dedicated on Sunday, and sufficient money raised to erect a parsonage. The church, though not large, is a cozy and comfortable house of worship, and we are glad to learn that the good people of that village now have so inviting a place of worship.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Judge W. C. Little, of this city, accompanied by his wife and children went down to Illinois the other day to attend the golden wedding of his aged parents. We are in receipt of the Kansas Independent of May 13th, containing six closely set columns of the happy occasion. C. J. T. Little and wife were New England people, married in 1834. They had eight children, all living now except one daughter, and all, we believe, present at the fiftieth anniversary, together with the wives, husbands, children and grandchildren, for there were great grandchildren present. One of the brothers is an honorable, two doctors, one our W. C., a lawyer. There were speeches made and poetry read. The presents consisted of a bag of gold, a gold ring for the mother, a gold-headed cane for the father and a splendid upholstered easy chair for each.

We cannot give even a synopsis of the things said and done, but append the remarks of W. C. Little, under the head of "HOME AND THE DEAR ONES."

Time with its tireless wings bears us on, in the midst of the passing years, having reached this golden period, we call a halt, and, laying aside the pressing cares and duties of every day life, with one heart and one voice, we turn to the old home and the dear ones. What pleasant memories crowd thick and fast upon us! What a cordial welcome awaits us as we come! The kindly greeting of father and mother, of sister and brother, or kinsman, neighbor and friend; not only this, as we draw near, almost before the hand has pressed the latch, the gate swings open of its own accord and bids us enter in. We pass down the shaded walk, trodden by us in other days, and the grand old tree, which stood in memory to-day, greets us with its fragrant boughs; and so each familiar bush and shrub is vocal, speaking to us in a language only understood by the members of the old home. We meet to recall the pleasant associations of other days. We meet upon the exalted plane of family and social equality, with naught of caste or privilege, with naught of rancor or bitterness to mar the pleasure of this glad hour. Time will not permit us here to detail the history of the days we passed at home; to-day in memory to-day, we see how we lived and learned and loved; how as the years passed by one after another we stepped beyond the paternal threshold, and went out to tread the unknown ways; how we went, lacking naught of energy or courage, a New England heritage I may add, but strong in Hope, not doubtful of the issue. We meet to-day to kindle anew upon the altar of our hearts that love for home and the dear ones which has been so strong in the past that time has scarcely begun to dim it, so strong that towards the east, others turning out foot-steps towards the setting sun, as we go, for let us ever keep alive the memory of home and the dear ones; let the fires of love burn brightly that we may carry much of warmth and cheer to other hearts and other homes; and as succeeding years shall bear us on, let the hallowed memory of this glad day keep alive the flame here rekindled, and let it burn higher and higher until it overleaps the bounds of the family circle, and let it spread until it shall pass beyond the confines of kinship, reaching out to ward the great brotherhood of man.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Dr. Stephens has returned from her visit to Illinois, where she had a very pleasant time, and is now again ready to answer calls from her patrons.

W. A. Skinner, of Kansas City, was in the city on business yesterday.

Mr. Romig Dort Glimor, of Derby, was in the city Sunday.

Mr. John Windsor came in Saturday night from a three week's stay among the cowboys in the Indian Territory.

Miss Grace Mulberry, an accomplished young lady friend of Miss Anna Jackson of this city, arrived here yesterday from Stafford Springs, Conn., and will spend sometime visiting the latter.

H. A. Halman, Clearwater; W. E. Cotton, Springfield, Mo.; Noble Caldwell, Winfield, and J. D. Whelan, Newton, stopped at the Tremont yesterday.

W. A. Jacques returned yesterday from a pleasant visit to Hiawatha.

Among the arrivals at the Tremont yesterday were S. A. Stevens, Troy; C. W. Williams, Hartford, Kan.; H. M. Spinner, Rockford, Ill., and A. W. Rouches, Wyandotte.

Jon H. Folks, Wellington, Kan.; I. Francis and wife, Louisville, Kan., and John Travis and wife, of Indiana, were guests of the Douglas Avenue yesterday.

Mr. Thomas Best, an old and experienced miller, and a friend of Capt. F. G. Smyth, arrived in the city Sunday from Ireland. He is prospecting with a view of building a mill in this vicinity.

James Burlison has gone to Kansas City to compete in the examination for the position of boiler inspector. With James' extensive knowledge and experience he stands an excellent show of "getting there," which we hope he will.

GOING TO THE BLOW-OUT.

This evening's train will carry Topeka-wards Messrs. Judge Glenn, Dr. McAdams, John Fisher, Pat Henly, Ben. Albrecht, Geo. Badinier, Howard Soule, and Chas. Derby, who expect to be in attendance at the Democratic State convention which will convene at the capital to-morrow, for the purpose of selecting four delegates to the Democratic National convention which will take place at Chicago on July 31st. It seems to us that for our democratic friends to go to all this trouble to nominate a man for president, when they must know that he'll get badly snowed under. But, then, there's nothing like getting used to it, and our friends are not lacking in experience.

"A YANKEE IN CUBA."

The Wichita dramatic company, assisted by two or three professional people, who are stopping in this city, will produce "Mirador, or the Yankee in Cuba," this evening at the rink. This is a most pleasing comedy, and will be worth hearing, especially by all those who like a hearty laugh. The play will not begin until 8:30 o'clock, skating being the order of the evening up to that time. Admission 25 cents.

We are requested by the proper authorities to say to the people of the city that it will at once be necessary for them to remove all filth, of whatever character, from their premises, if they would avoid unnecessary expense. Now that warm weather is here, the health of the city demands that all matter that has a tendency to cause a bad odor or impure atmosphere, be removed beyond the city limits, and we hope none of our readers will neglect this matter until they are reminded of it by the city marshal. Warrants have already been issued, and will at once be served on all owners of hog lots, etc., unless they are cleaned and put in proper shape immediately.

About four o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. J. Bissant's horse ran away again. It was attached to the delivery wagon, on which was seated L. Bissant and another young man. The horse took flight at a pile of dirt on the avenue, and started to run, upsetting the wagon and throwing the occupants out. Fortunately they escaped injury. The horse broke loose from the wagon and harness, and went flying down south on the alley, but was afterward captured.

Lost—A navy blue coat. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving the memorandum books and papers at Allen & Jones' grocery store, and no questions asked. C. C. JACKSON.

SABBATH CHIMES.

Notes of Interest Gathered at the Various Churches Sunday.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The beautiful and impressive services in connection with the children's meeting at the First Baptist church, at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, attracted to that handsome temple of worship a very large congregation of children, their parents and friends and a number of strangers. About the pulpit and altar had been tastefully arranged a large number of beautiful bouquets and potted flowers, while, suspended from the chandeliers, were several cages of canaries, lending to the room a most cheerful and pleasant appearance, which added no little to the impressiveness of the occasion and the enjoyment of the little children, whose pure, innocent voices as they rose in morning praise were sweetly blended with the silvery notes of the little feathered songsters. The pastor was so impressed with the beautiful surroundings and the bright smiling faces before him that he offered prayer he remarked that he believed it was the largest congregation he had ever seen in the church. The opening prayer was followed by a song, entitled, "Oh, Children's Day," after which Rev. Harper read the second chapter of Luke, then explained that "children's day" was not materially different from any other service. It was merely to elicit the attention of children and show their parents that the little folks could become interested in religious service, and deport themselves as well in church as their elders if they were but so taught.

The preacher took as his text Luke 1:52: "What manner of child shall this be?" Before beginning his remarks he requested the audience to pay strict attention, that they might remember more of the sermon than their parents usually did. Said he, "if we could but lift the veil from the future, then it would be an easy matter to answer the text. But this could not be. The birth of John the Baptist raised the question, what kind of a man will he be? and his parents and friends were anxious to solve the question. But time alone did this." The speaker compared the building of character and the determining "what manner of a child shall this be?" to the building of a house. If the mechanic use good material, good brick and mortar, in the building of a house, he may reasonably expect a fine structure. So, if we, in moulding the heart and character of the child, use none but good material, we may hope to see the child grow to be a good and noble man or woman. There are two things, said the speaker, which, if followed, will make good men and women. First, be guided by the conscience. Second, obey the Lord Jesus Christ. But often we know not how to obey the Lord, even though we strive. By reading the Bible carefully and attentively shall find light, for in it God has revealed himself and pointed out right from wrong.

The services throughout were of a most interesting and enjoyable nature, and none seemed to be more interested than the little children.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The services at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning were largely attended, their peculiar nature having attracted many people to that house of worship. For years it has been a general custom throughout the United States for all members of the Grand Army of the Republic to assemble at their headquarters on the Sabbath preceding memorial day, and in a body attend some place of divine worship. This beautiful custom was faithfully complied with Sunday. At an early hour Sunday morning the members of Garfield post began to collect at their headquarters until there were about one hundred present, the majority being in full uniform, when they formed in line, headed by the post band, and marched in a body to the Presbyterian church. Here they were received by the officers of the church and ushered to front seats, having left their flags at the minister he had the flags brought in and placed on either side of the altar. The services then began by the choir singing in excellent voice, "Come unto me." This was followed by the pastor repeating in a very impressive voice the Lord's prayer, after which several psalms were sung and the reading of lessons recited. Rev. Hewitt then read his text—the 7th verse of the 13th chapter of Paul's epistles to the Romans—"Honor to whom Honor." The speaker showed much familiarity with his subject and careful consideration of its application. The sermon was one of Rev. Hewitt's best extempore efforts, and elicited the closest attention from beginning to close. "We are waiting" was excellently sang by the choir, after which the benediction was pronounced.

AT THE RINK.

The M. E. services at the rink last Sunday evening were quite largely attended, and the pastor, Rev. Phillips, delivered an able and interesting sermon, choosing as the foundation of his remarks, Revelations, 22d chapter and 12th verse—"And behold I come quickly, and give every man his reward as his work shall be." The subject was handled in a very careful and logical manner by the speaker. One week from next Sabbath will be Children's Day at the church, and the services will be of a very interesting character, especially to the little ones and their friends. They also hope, on this day, to be prepared for a general distribution of programmes and circulars for this, their centennial year.

NOTES.

A special meeting of the Women's Pastor's Aid Society will be had at the residence of Mrs. Rock Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Ida Struble presided at the organ of the First Baptist church Sunday morning in a very acceptable manner.

The excellent singing of the choir of the M. E. church is one of the most attractive features of their services.

Miss Lawrence led the little ones in singing in the First Baptist church Sunday morning.

Persons who wish to join the M. E. church by letter, are requested to hand in their letters next Sunday evening.

The congregation of the Presbyterian church were notified by the pastor, on Sunday, that any one desiring to unite with the church could do so on next Thursday evening, or Sunday, or at any time by handing him their letter.

The rite of baptism will be administered at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning.

Nearly all the churches were well attended Sunday.

A rather novel and unusual express "package" arrived here yesterday by Wells, Fargo & Co's. express. It was a very fine yearling breeder, of the Herford breed, weighing over 300 pounds. It was consigned to R. M. Gardner, of Clearwater, and had been on the road eight weeks. It was shipped from England, and arrived here in excellent condition.

Photos of the Medicine Lodge bank robbers, and the men that captured them can be seen at Rogers' gallery.

Duplicate photos of the business houses, residences, and general views of Wichita can be had at Rogers' gallery.
